Premier Fears New Outbreak In Civil War

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Premier Souvanna Phouma angrily turned on his erstwhile Pathet Lao partners Thursday. He accused the pro-Communist Laotians of breaking promises and launching new attacks on his neutralist forces that may again bring civil war to Laos.

He departed from a prepared speech to declare that he had just received word that the Pathet Lao had launched a new attack on Phong Savan, the last major neutralist position outside the Plaine des Jarres.

Phong Savan is about 10 miles northeast of the Plaine des Jarres, where the bulk of Gen. Kong Le's neutralist troops now are bottled up. The premier said the Pathet Lao also was trying to force the neutralist garrison from Ban Ban, about 24 miles north-east of the Plaine.

Souvanna asserted that the Pathet Lao is trying to destroy his loyal neutralist forces and to dominate neutralist-controlled zones in the divided country.

He said the campaign, if it succeeds, will plunge Laos back into the civil war that plagued it before the Geneva agreement last July guaranteeing Laos' neutrality.

Souvanna spoke at a religious ceremony. Before an audience that included coalition Cabinet ministers who are Pathet Lao supporters, Souvanna delivered his most outspoken attack on the pro-Communist party since 1960.

Neutralist sources said Souvanna ordered out of the country about 300 Communist North Vietnamese construction workers who were accused by Kong Le of donning military uniforms and helping the Pathet Lao destroy two retreating neutralist tanks in the Plaine des Jarres area.

The Pathet Lao is expected to ignore the expulsion order. Laos is governed by a three-faction coalition of Souvanna's neutralists, the Pathet Lao, Deputy Premier Prince Souphanouvong, and the rightists of deputy Premier Gen. Phoui Nosavan.

Wichita Man Being Quizzed In Dual Slaying

OKLAHOMA CITY, (UPI)—James Lewis Otney of Wichita, was arrested for questioning about the deaths of two persons near Wichita, was arrested Thursday and held on bail.

U.S. Commissioner William C. Page set Otney's bond at $100,000 pending a removal hearing May 3. Otney was unable to post bond and was placed in custody of the U.S. marshal.

Meanwhile, in Wichita, fear of a sadistic slayer mounted with the discovery of the slaying of service station attendant Wayne Platt some five miles from where the couple was killed.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said Otney, 34, was unarmed and offered no resistance when he was arrested on a federal warrant alleging interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

The FBI said Kansas officers planned to question Otney in Oklahoma city about the deaths of Earl Bowlin, 52, and a woman believed to be Bowlin's wife.

Police said there was no indication of a connection between the two slayings last Saturday and Thursday's shooting death.

W. Va. To Prohibit Sale Of 'Hybrid' Seed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Seed dealers have been warned by State Agriculture Commissioner John T. Johnson that the sale of so-called "hybrid" alfalfa seed would not be permitted in West Virginia.

The commissioner said he had been informed that alfalfa seed labeled as hybrid was being sold in some states for near normal price. But he said true hybrid would cost about $3,000 a pound. Johnson said to obtain a pound of such seed it would require the hand-breeding of 100,000 blossoms.

LOBBYIST — Senate investigators said yesterday John A. O'Donnell, a Washington lobbyist, handed out political campaign checks with a free hand while trying to keep friendly congress members "in" and newcomers "out." He was reported particularly interested in a bill which affected the Philippines.

Lobby Probers Cite Pressure, Cash Handouts

Reveal Activity Of "Sugar Agent" For Philippines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators released testimony Thursday that a Washington lobbyist handed out political campaign checks with a free hand while trying to keep friendly congress members "in" and newcomers "out."

The lawyer-lobbyist, John A. O'Donnell, was pictured as interested in passage of a Philippine war damage bill under which he stood to collect from $150,000 up to almost half a million dollars in fees.

The $73-million bill finally was passed last year, but none of the money has been paid out yet.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., announced he and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which developed the story, will try to overturn the bill with an amendment cutting off O'Donnell's fees.

Quarter Million In Fees Fulbright said O'Donnell already had collected an estimated $265,000 under a 1956 act authorizing war damage payments to religious groups in the Philippines.

That O'Donnell and a Filipino associate "have been unduly enriched is of less importance than that the legislative process has been subverted," Fulbright said, adding: "Both Congress and the executive were deceived."

O'Donnell acknowledged, Fulbright said, that he had not disclosed in previous testimony before Congress "that he was acting in fact, if not in law, as the agent of foreign principals, and for his own interests."

Fulbright's committee listed numerous congressional figures and others in both parties as alleged recipients of O'Donnell's political campaign contributions.

These were bank cashier's checks ranging from $2,000 down to $100 each and totaling some $8,600. They were handed out in the fall of 1960.

There was no allegation that any of the contributions were in violation of the law.

An aide to the Senate Elections subcommittee said the Corrupt Practices Act apparently makes no reference to foreign lobbyists. He said only national banks, corporations and labor organizations are expressly prohibited from making campaign contributions.

O'Donnell is registered as an agent for the Philippine Sugar Association.

Coastal City In Viet Nam Hit By Reds

Drive To Edge U.S. Military Area; Beaten Off

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—In one of the boldest strokes of their long campaign, Communist guerrillas invaded the coastal city of Quang Ngai and advanced to the edge of a U.S. military adviser's compound, American sources said Thursday.

These military sources said the surprise raid was coordinated with assaults on 12 surrounding strategic hamlets, set up with U.S. financial backing to protect the Vietnamese from the guerrillas.

The U.S. compound in Quang Ngai, 250 miles northeast of Saigon, was threatened by the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas for two days before the attackers were driven off by South Vietnamese troops.

Nineteen government soldiers were reported killed and 43 wounded.

In attacking Quang Ngai, the Communists strayed from their usual hit-and-run tactics.

The South Vietnamese are building what they call strategic hamlets in Quang Ngai Province. About a quarter of 400 planned are already built.

The Communist attacks appeared aimed at intimidating the local people doing the building. The guerrillas slipped down from the mountains, apparently to show their strength on the first anniversary of the start of the program for the strategic hamlets.

Cape Canaveral Wildcat Strike Comes To End

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A machinists union local Thursday called off a "wildcat" strike at this huge spaceport to await the result of a nationwide labor vote on a proposed contract with the Boeing Co.

Local 2061 of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) voted against the contract Wednesday and set up picket lines about one mile south of the entrance to Cape Canaveral.

However, the picket lines were removed by the union early Thursday and its workers returned to their jobs. But one official said "it may be only temporary."

89 Washington Visitors Suffer Food Poisoning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Food poisoning sent 89 visiting seniors from a Waterford, Conn., high school to hospitals Thursday.

All but 14 were released after emergency room treatment and the condition of the others was described as good.

The Food and Drug Administration immediately investigated the cause and said it had narrowed to food served in two unidentified restaurants—one in New Castle, Del., and one in Washington.

The sightseeing students, on a class trip, started getting sick Wednesday night but it was not until after noon Tuesday that it became "violently ill," as one nurse described it.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., by coincidence had just finished a speech entitled "food poisoning is with us" when told the youngsters were ill. He notified the Food and Drug Administration and then went to Casualty Hospital, where 84 of them were taken.

Five of the Connecticut students were taken to Washington Hospital Center for emergency treatment.

Cardinal Mindszenty In Private Session

Seen As Effort To End Primate's Seven-Year Asylum

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Austria's Franziskus Cardinal Mindszenty met Thursday with Josef Cardinal Mindszenty in secret talks that may end the Hungarian primate's seven-year asylum in the U.S. legation.

Legation officials declined to give details of the talks. A spokesman only confirmed that the meeting took place after Cardinal Mindszenty's arrival.

The cardinal returned to Vienna after the talk. Informal sources believe the Austrian cardinal conveyed to Cardinal Mindszenty the desire of Pope John XXIII that he leave his self-imposed exile and go to the Vatican.

Details of necessary steps to be taken by both the Hungarian Communist regime and the U.S. government to arrange for the cardinal's departure are being kept secret.

Despite denials, it has been reported that the details have been negotiated in recent talks between the two governments and that the Hungarians would grant Cardinal Mindszenty safe conduct out of the country.

Third Member Wallenda Family Victim Of Daring Act In 16 Months

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Yesterday night, Miss Wallenda was attempting a head stand as her family of circus aerialists, fell to a fibreglass pole was swaying her death Thursday night during a performance of the Shrine Circus at the Omaha City Auditorium.

Miss Wallenda, 42, billed here as "Riatta," fell about 45 feet from the floor of the arena from the top of a fibreglass pole. She died almost instantly.

There was no net beneath Miss Wallenda during her performance.

She was the third member of the Wallenda family to die during performances in the past 16 months. Two members of the troupe died during a bicycle act on a high wire in Detroit in January of last year. Her brother, Mario Wallenda, was critically injured in that fall.

Red Chinese Would Oust Khrushchev

Leaders Launch New Campaign Of Denunciation

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communist are telling their people Soviet Premier Khrushchev must step down or be removed from power, Hong Kong sources close to the Communists said Thursday.

These sources said Red China's leaders launched a new campaign of denunciation against Khrushchev among the people early this month.

"Its main theme is there's no hope for unity in the Communist world as long as Khrushchev is in power," said a source who recently visited Red China.

He said the latest propaganda campaign is nationwide but so far has been restricted to domestic audiences.

It is being disseminated through domestic radio networks, speeches by local provincial officials and at discussion meetings conducted by Communist officials, informants reported. The anti-Khrushchev propaganda is not being beamed abroad over Peking's powerful radio transmitters or published in national papers which reach foreign audiences.

The campaign was kicked off after Khrushchev rejected on March 31 Chinese Communist party head Mao Tse-tung's invitation to visit Peking and discuss Soviet-Chinese differences that have split the Communist camp.

The campaign breaks, at least domestically, the name-calling Mao declared March 9 when he invited Khrushchev to Peking.

Sources in Hong Kong believe the Western world could be treated to an even more spectacular exchange within the Communist camp if Peking pulls the gloves off again.

However, there is still no expectation here of a formal diplomatic split between Peking and Moscow.

The current anti-Khrushchev attacks so far have followed the pattern that preceded the name-calling. Informants say the main new note in the campaign is the emphasis on the charge that Khrushchev is the stumbling block to Communist unity.

Top Military Urges Bigger Nuclear Bomb

100-Megaton Device Recommended By LeMay And Shoup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top U.S. military leaders feel the United States should develop a 100-megaton nuclear bomb to match the Soviet Union although the official Pentagon position is that such superweapons have no real military value.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, and Gen. David M. Shoup, commandant of the Marine Corps, say the United States must have such a weapon if the policy of mutual deterrence is to be preserved. In addition, Shoup sees in the superbomb some destructive capability not present in smaller ones.

The biggest nuclear weapon the United States can now deliver is understood to be in the 24-megaton range. It is carried by a B52 bomber. U.S. ballistic missiles pack a five-megaton wallop. A megaton is the equivalent of the blast of a million tons of TNT.

The Soviet Union is known to have tested a bomb well over 50 megatons and U.S. military officials accept its claim to have developed a 100-megaton one which it has not yet tested.

The official Pentagon view, however, is that while such a weapon could be developed relatively easily, it would have no clear military advantage over smaller bombs. Specifically, it is argued that four 25-megaton bombs would have far greater overall effect than a single 100-megaton bomb which would greatly "overkill" in its area.

LeMay and Shoup hold that the psychology of the deterrent policy requires being able to match the Soviet threat of such a devastating weapon.

Their views were given before a House Appropriations Defense subcommittee in testimony made public Thursday.

Third Meningitis Death Is Reported

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The Naval Training Center Thursday reported its third death from meningitis within the past six weeks, raising fears of another outbreak of the disease at the recruit base.

The Navy said Seaman Recruit Paul D. Langley, 18, son of Paul Langley of Moore, Okla., who was stricken with the disease Wednesday night, died in Navy Hospital at noon. He had been in critical condition.

The report of his death came shortly after the training center disclosed its 11th case in the past month and a half, during which there have been two outbreaks.

Says Kennedy Backed Out On Promises

Dr. Miro Cardona Charges Policy Of U.S. Is Vague

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Jose Miro Cardona quit Thursday as president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council and charged the President had backed out on a promise of a second invasion of Cuba.

"His offers of cooperation were definite and his support absolute and total," Miro said in a 6,500-word document released to newsmen after he stalked out of the council meeting.

The United States then changed its position, he said, forced Cuban exiles to halt their raids against the Fidel Castro regime, and resigned itself to the presence of Russian troops in Cuba.

The Cuban leader said Kennedy promised after the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961 that there would be another invasion to topple Fidel Castro.

In Washington, the White House said there would be no comment on Miro's charges, and that the State Department already had expressed the government's views on them. This presumably referred to a State Department statement Monday saying Miro's statements as to conversations with the President and other U.S. officials were "highly inaccurate and distorted."

Miro had threatened at that time to release his lengthy document.

The controversial document was released after Miro quit as president of the council. Three other members followed him out of the door of the closed meeting.

Kennedy's policy on Cuba is a vague one, Miro charged, and he added that the President had reneged on promises to help the anti-Castro cause.

On April 20, 1961, Miro said, Kennedy announced a decision "not to abandon Cuba."

At the time, he said, the President advised nations of the Western Hemisphere that "if they would not comply with their obligations (under hemisphere treaties), the United States would fulfill all agreements imposed by inter-American treaties."

Two weeks later, Miro related, "President Kennedy planned the immediate future of Cuba with me. His offers of cooperation were definite and his support absolute and total."

Assumed Responsibility Miro added: "President Kennedy assumed before the world total responsibility for the invasion fiasco and announced his decision not to abandon Cuba."

The possibility was indicated, Miro said, of help for underground forces in Cuba.

"The first Cuban volunteer recruiting program in various American military centers was projected for training of very brief duration," Miro added.

Later, according to the conversations, Miro said, the trainees would be grouped in a single army "at the opportune moment which we would discuss together."

"I invited in President Kennedy's name officials of the armed forces of Cuba to take specialized courses in various schools of the United States with the aim of combatting inside Castro's island."

22 Hurt When Train Strikes Steel Truck

CHARLOTTE, Mich. (UPI)—Twenty-two persons were injured Thursday when a Grand Trunk passengers train smashed into a steel truck at a crossing near here.

The train was the International Limited. It struck the truck at the crossing about one mile east of here. Charlotte is about 90 miles west of Detroit.

A total of 86 passengers were on board.

Two locomotives pulling the train careened into a ditch alongside the tracks.

The truck driver, Duane B. Lancaster, 36, Grand Rapids, Mich., escaped injury. He said he did not see the train. The cab of his rig was already across the tracks when the train hit the steel-laden trailer, police said.

Newsman Is Witness In Conspiracy Trial Of Former Maryland Congressman

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thomas,ington Post, said Johnson claimed F. Johnson, former Maryland congressman, denied in London he bought the checks through an account he had in the savings had received $3,000 in travelers and loan association controlled by checks from an indicted savings J. Kenneth Edlin.

The government is trying Johnson, Edlin, former Alabama Democratic Congressman Frank W. Boykin and William L. Robinson on charges they conspired to influence the Justice Department to dismiss an indictment against Edlin. Robinson was an associate of Edlin.

The government contends $3,000 in travelers checks were delivered to Johnson Oct. 23, 1961 in Washington by Edlin and Robinson as one of several payments made to Johnson.

Estabrook testified he interviewed Johnson in London Dec. 19, 1961.

"I told him the Post had information that just before he left on his trip, he obtained $3,000 in travelers checks from Edlin," Estabrook told U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen and a jury.

"I don't know where you fellows get this kind of information, I've never gotten a penny from First Colony (savings and loan Association)," Estabrook quoted Johnson as replying.

Edlin's indictment in 1959 was on mail fraud in connection with operation of First Colony, a Maryland association. He pleaded no contest and served five months in prison.

Estabrook said Johnson telephoned him 10 hours after their first conversation and told him he had bought the checks through his account with First Continental Savings and Loan Association.

Edlin also controlled First Continental which has since been placed in receivership along with First Colony.

Estabrook said he also asked Johnson about leasing of space in his Snow Hill law office by First Continental. The newsman said the congressman replied it was one of several rented throughout the state by the association.

The government indictment specifies the rent was $200 a month and a Johnson law partner testified earlier in the trial no savings and loan business was ever transacted there.

Estabrook testified that Johnson acknowledged it "probably was true" he was paid legal fees by First Continental.

Five Children Die In Flash Fire At Home

GRAYLING, Mich. (UPI) — A flash fire roared through a frame home here Wednesday night, killing five children.

Three of the children died trying to escape the flames. Two others died in their beds.

All five were the children of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Moes, 28, who returned home from a visit to Frederic, 10 miles north of Grayling, to find firemen battling the blaze. Killed in the fire were Barbara, 9; John, 7; Scott, 5; James, 4; and Billie, 2.

Judy Cook, 17, Mrs. Moes' sister, was baby-sitting with the children at the time. She dashed from the burning two-story home and ran to a neighbor's house to get help. She had to be restrained from re-entering the home.

An overheated oil space heater was blamed for the fire.

JFK Schedules Trip To Boston

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House Thursday announced detailed plans for President Kennedy's Saturday trip to Boston where he will speak about 2:45 p.m.

Kennedy scheduled 3:30 p.m. takeoff from Boston for arrival back at Andrews at 4:35 p.m. He may go immediately from Andrews Field by helicopter to camp David, Md., for the rest of the weekend.

Acting White House press secretary Andrew Hatcher said he hoped to distribute advance copies of the President's Boston speech prior to the chief executive's departure from Washington.

The President has another important speaking engagement here Friday at a luncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He will be available for a brief question and answer period after the speech.

The government referred to the men as "the Frigerista group," a reference to Rogelio Frigerio, economic czar in the Frondizi regime, now in exile in Montevideo.

The seizures coincided with a strengthening of the guard at President Jose N. Guido's suburban home and orders for additional security precautions throughout Argentina.

Argentina Cracks Down On Political Enemies

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The government cracked down on its political enemies Thursday and tight security measures indicated a possible new crisis.

The arrest of seven former top aides of ousted President Arturo Frondizi was announced in a dawn communique and the government said it had seizure orders out for nine others.

The government charged the 16 men are "Marxist-Leninists" and said they are being rounded up under security laws.

The communique alleged they were in close contact with similar groups in other Latin American countries "seeking by every means to create an atmosphere of corruption and chaos so that Marxist-Leninists could seize power."

Those arrested included such prominent personages as Dr. Jacobo Gringanz, former personal physician to Frondizi; Arnoldo Musich, a top economist, and Ernesto Sabato, a former foreign ministry official.

Organized Crime, Rackets Are Topics At Police Session

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Organized crime and racketeering came under fire Thursday as law enforcement intelligence officers from throughout the nation began a three-day conference.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on investigations and a leading national figure in the war on organized crime, was keynote speaker at the eighth annual conference of the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit (LEIU).

McClellan presented a legislative review of organized crime and racketeering as specialists in uncovering syndicated crime gathered to exchange information and ideas.

The program will focus much of its attention on studies of recent trends of organized crime and racketeering as part of streamlining the strategy for city, county and state law enforcement agencies in smashing syndicated crime.

Primary purpose of the LEIU is to ferret out and abolish organized crime by exchanging information with member agencies concerning activities of known hoodlums and gangsters with particular emphasis on their interstate activities.

W. Germany Second In World Imports

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI) — West Germany advanced to second place among the world's importers in 1962, behind the United States, statistics of the Institute of German Industry showed Wednesday.

West Germany's percentage of world imports increased from 4.6 in 1961 to 9.3 in 1962. The United States received 12.4 per cent of the world imports.

In exports, West Germany's figure went up from 3.6 per cent in 1961 to 10.8 per cent in 1962, and was 10.7 per cent in 1962.

Non-farm employment totaled 55 million in March, a record high for the month. This was 260,000 more such workers than was reported in February, and one million more than in March, 1962.

A better-than-seasonal spurt in manufacturing and trade jobs was chiefly responsible for the sharp reduction in the nation's unemployment rate in March, the Labor Department reported this week.

4-Year-Old Girl Slain; Parents Are Wounded

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — A four-year-old girl was found shot to death Thursday while her parents lay critically wounded in an adjoining room of their apartment.

Police identified the girl as Robin Wynn Thomas. They said neighbors called shortly before 7 p.m. and reported a man was threatening to shoot his family.

The parents were taken to Washington County Hospital where they are in critical condition. Police are waiting to question the father.

Police found William McNary, Thomas, 75, sprawled in the bedroom with a bullet wound in his head. His wife, Barbara, 18, lay nearby, also with a bullet wound in her head. Police said a .32 caliber revolver lay on the bed.

The daughter's body was found in the bathroom, police said, with three bullet wounds in her head. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. E. W. Ditto, county medical examiner.

W. Germany Second In World Imports

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI) — West Germany advanced to second place among the world's importers in 1962, behind the United States, statistics of the Institute of German Industry showed Wednesday.

West Germany's percentage of world imports increased from 4.6 in 1961 to 9.3 in 1962. The United States received 12.4 per cent of the world imports.

In exports, West Germany's figure went up from 3.6 per cent in 1961 to 10.8 per cent in 1962, and was 10.7 per cent in 1962.

Non-farm employment totaled 55 million in March, a record high for the month. This was 260,000 more such workers than was reported in February, and one million more than in March, 1962.

A better-than-seasonal spurt in manufacturing and trade jobs was chiefly responsible for the sharp reduction in the nation's unemployment rate in March, the Labor Department reported this week.

Primary purpose of the LEIU is to ferret out and abolish organized crime by exchanging information with member agencies concerning activities of known hoodlums and gangsters with particular emphasis on their interstate activities.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes is to officiate next Wednesday at the dedication of the J. Millard Tawes building at Spring Grove State Hospital in suburban Catonsville.

About 200 chronically ill patients who are bedridden or who require continuous nursing service will be transferred to the new building. Also to take part in the ceremony are Dr. Isadore Tuerk, commissioner of mental hygiene, and Dr. Bruno Radauskas, Spring Grove superintendent.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Philip Goodman urged Gov. Tawes Thursday to sign a bill which would make Baltimore City eligible for another $5 million in federal aid for the interstate highway system.

The bill, passed by the 1963 Maryland General Assembly, would permit federal reimbursement of 90 per cent of the cost of relocating publicly-owned public utility facilities for highway construction.

Goodman said the city could become eligible for $5 million under this bill during construction of two expressways.

Breen Ends Long Period Of Isolation

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Whilden P. Breen Jr. has ended five months of isolation in a simulated space vehicle on the University of Maryland campus.

Dr. Jack D. Findley of the university's Department of Psychology, who is conducting the experiment, announced Thursday that Breen left his 12-by-12-foot cubicle Wednesday night. He had entered the chamber Nov. 17.

Findley said Breen, 36, appeared to be in good physical condition but would undergo extensive medical tests. Breen also will be questioned by Findley before he meets the press at a news conference next Monday.

The experiment, financed through a grant of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was designed to test the reactions of a man occupying restricted quarters alone over long periods. Trips Venus and Mars, for example, would require from six months to more than a year.

A preliminary report was made on the experiment last month, when Breen had completed four months in the cubicle. Officials said then he could end the confinement anytime he chose.

Breen, a university research assistant, volunteered for the assignment. He was married last June.

Boys Find 180 Sticks Dynamite

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — Two boys found 180 sticks of dynamite in a woods near here. Precautionary blasts set off later by disposal experts awakened and startled some residents around 2 a.m. Thursday.

The boys, Jimmy Fraley and Larry Repass, both 13, found the dynamite in an area near the Woodley Gardens subdivision north of here Wednesday afternoon.

Jimmy told his father, Alfred W. Fraley, about the find at dinner time, and the father notified State Police. Police in turn called Ft. Meade, and subsequently a four-man detachment from the 28th Ordnance Company arrived.

Some of the dynamite had begun to deteriorate, and so to guard against an explosion while handling, 12 of the pieces were detonated. The remaining 168 sticks were loaded in a four-vehicle convoy and transported to Ft. Meade.

Police said the dynamite probably had been left there by a construction firm which installed a sewer line in the area. They estimated the explosives had been there two or three years.

FORESTVILLE, Md. (AP)—An attractive young housewife went to work this week as the first lady dogcatcher in Prince Georges County.

"I've always loved animals and they get along well with me," said Mrs. Sonja Tyler of Forestville said Thursday. She's one of nine dogcatchers employed by the county.

Mrs. Tyler and her husband, Edward, a Washington plumber, have no children. But they do have three toy manchesters, and a mixed-breed dog.

SALISBURY (AP) — The wife of the editor of the Salisbury Times, Mrs. Oscar L. Morris, died Thursday at Deers Head State Hospital at the age of 64.

Mrs. Morris never recovered consciousness after brain surgery March 10 as a result of a virus infection.

She is survived by her husband, four children, her mother, two brothers, a sister and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
During the last great war a popular motto was contrived to prevent the slip of any information concerning the arrival or departure of our ships. It went: "Loose lips sink ships." This maxim could have been put to profitable use by West who in today's hand virtually charted his opponent's course for him.

It is with West's two club overcall that we wish to take issue. Opposite a partner who has already passed, there can be little hope to score offensively, and a bid on this meager holding can only serve to give comfort and aid to the opposition.

When the bidding reverted to South, he made a delayed take-out double in order to indicate to his partner that he held a very powerful hand. North now showed some signs of life by jumping to three spades. Inasmuch as he was being forced to enter the auction, a mere bid of two spades would not promise a thing. South routinely carried on to game.

West opened the jack of hearts on which East signaled encouragingly with the nine, and declarer permitted the jack to hold the trick. South won the heart continuation and proceeded to draw the trumps in three rounds. The normal procedure at this point in the absence of any adverse bidding would be to lead a club toward the king in the closed hand in the hope that East held the ace of that suit.

From West's entry into the auction, declarer was convinced that both of the missing club honors were on his left, and that two losers in the suit were unavoidable. The only hope was to establish a discard for one of the bad hearts by means of an unorthodox play in clubs. After drawing trumps, South led a club from his hand toward the dummy's jack. West was forced to put up the queen and, since he had no hearts left to reach his partner, he was limited to one more trick in the form of the ace of clubs. South was able to throw a heart from dummy on the established club king and then ruff his last heart in dummy.

Had West remained silent during the bidding, South would no doubt have tried to find the ace of clubs on his side. When this fails to materialize, he must lose two clubs and two hearts.

Memorial Gift Will Be Made

The memorial offering from the Cumberland First Evangelical United Brethren Women's Society of World Service will be taken to the Branch Convention in memory of Mrs. Mary Belle True and Mrs. Katherine Cole, who died during the past year.

She also showed a hillbilly man's over-night, all in underglazes, and a crown dish done in gold.

Work Progressing On Spectacular New York World's Fair Which Will Open For Two Years In 1964

(EDITOR'S NOTE: One year from now, the 1964-65 New York World's Fair, billed as the biggest, costliest and most imposing show in history, is scheduled to open. In the following dispatch, UPI correspondent Gerald S. Snyder summarizes the progress so far in the work being done by fair officials and the city of New York to prepare for the entertainment, accommodation and transportation of an expected 70 million visitors to the fair. The dispatch will be accompanied by pictures.)

By GERALD S. SNYDER
NEW YORK (UPI)—On a mile-long sea of mud and rubble where in the near-war years of 1939-40 a world's fair blossomed, the steel skeletons of giant superstructures are rising again.

One year from now—with a space age, anti-war theme of "Peace Through Understanding"—the 1964-65 New York World's Fair will swing open its gates. The Russians won't be there and Britain and Canada look like absentees, too.

But the fair promises to shape up as the biggest, costliest and most imposing show in history. And, like any enterprise of this magnitude, it will have its headaches, too.

From April 22 to October 18, 1964, and from April 21 to October 17, 1965, an estimated 70 million persons will twirl through the turnstiles ($2 for adults, $1 for children) to see a show more than eight times the size of the Seattle World's Fair, and the first world's fair ever to claim a billion dollars in total costs.

Many Sights
On a 646-acre, pear-shaped expanse 12 miles east of Manhattan, the customers will see, among other things:

A full-sized replica of a Bangkok temple, a pre-fabricated Sudanese mosque, a Swiss skyride with four-seat gondolas, John Ringling North's one-ring circus, a slightly covered-up version of Paris' "Folies Bergere," the Dead Sea Scrolls, a Michelangelo masterpiece and assorted oddities, curiosities and interesting sights in some 200 way-out buildings.

In 62 restaurants and concession areas, visitors will munch on Malaysian curry and New England corned beef, eat crepe suzettes and drink Kronenbourg beer (in a $1 million Alsatian beer garden), or eat from their own knapsacks on planned picnic grounds.

They will listen to the music of the Boston Pops, see films of Billy Graham in his own pavilion, walk among dinosaurs (made of fiberglass) and visit a replica of Columbus' flagship, the Santa Maria anchored 200 feet out in Meadow Lake.

They will come to Flushing Meadow Park by boat, car, train, bus and even helicopter to a special heliport within the fair grounds, and—predict fair officials—will bring in at the gate a $29 million surplus when the fair closes.

Although the fair's opening date is still 12 months off, nearly all transient hotels and motels in the city and the surrounding metropolitan area—almost 100,000 rooms—have signed rental agreements with the fair's housing bureau.

Big Push Is On
On the fair grounds, one year from opening day, more than half the pavilions have yet to be started. But the big push is on.

President Kennedy inaugurated the $17 million federal building, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller drove the first pile for New York State's "Tent of Tomorrow." His Highness Sri Sultan Hamengku Buwona IX wielded a spade for Indonesia, Miss French Pavilion splashed a bulldozer with champagne, fireworks were exploded in a Hong Kong "roof raising" and everything from Elsie the Cow to a giant knife, fork and spoon has been used to get things going.

So far, about 65 per cent of the fair's space has been "sold." Most of the prime sites are gone and about 30 states are expected to be represented.

Among them—New Jersey, with its Tercentenary Pavilion consisting of 21 small pavilions arranged about a central theater and four interior gardens, representing the 21 counties of the state.

—Hawaii, with an Aloha Building, a "Restaurant of the Five Volcanoes" and an open-air, thatched-roof "Ulu Mau Village" showing Hawaiian life of old.

—West Virginia, featuring a "Mountain Lodge" restaurant and Maryland, with an historical presentation of the battle of Fort Mifflin and the writing of the National Anthem.

William E. Potter, chief of the state section, said two states signed up for sites but got caught up in last fall's elections. gubernatorial campaigns for better schools and roads at home, he said, led to decisions not to participate in the New York exhibition.

Behind Schedule
Said chief engineer William Whipple Jr.: "We're not as far ahead as we had hoped to be." But he saw no need for alarm, citing Seattle where, almost four months before opening day, half the buildings hadn't been started.

Of help in New York, Whipple said, were leftovers from the '39 vilion—after the State Department asked for an equal two-season session for a U.S. pavilion in Russia and was refused. The Russians were ready to admit the United States for one season only.

After the Russians stated formally they will not be present, fair officials released the land once set aside for them.

Some 50 foreign nations, including many of the new African states, will participate. Britain and Canada have stayed out, looking toward a BIE - approved exposition in Canada in 1967.

Israel said it could not afford a pavilion but is still a question mark.

Already rising are the pavilions of Spain, France, Ireland, the Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Greece, Turkey.

Academy Award Winner Anne Bancroft Has Leading Role In German Play Now On Broadway

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK (UPI)—A play of the late Bertolt Brecht, German leftist who wound up his career as master of a theater in East Berlin, finally has made it to Broadway.
"Mother Courage and Her Children," considered by many Brecht disciples to be his major work in a long list, is fittingly, the one to have this distinction. It is at the Martin Beck Theater, a big draw since her successes in "Two for the Seesaw" and "The Miracle Worker." The production given this anti-war drama by Cheryl Crawford and Jerome Robbins is a magnificent one, and Robbins has directed it with a fine sense of style and an ability to draw most from his actors.

Bancroft, a big draw since her successes in "Two for the Seesaw" and "The Miracle Worker." The production given this anti-war drama by Cheryl Crawford and Jerome Robbins is a magnificent one, and Robbins has directed it with a fine sense of style and an ability to draw most from his actors.
The outstanding feature for Brecht's 17th century Thirty Years War, and it is vastly overlong. Too many of the 12 scenes con-

Brecht as a poetic writer, and can't sing—the songs in "Mother Courage" are largely a waste of time. They add nothing vital to the writing quality is more pedestrian than soaring. Brecht's lyrics in German may be splendid, but any that I have ever run across in English impress me as being amateurish to a degree.
Because of the number of them. It is only the last third of the drama that appeals to me, and then it is because some real dramatic emotion — which Brecht never fancies — begins to emerge. Thanks largely to the playing of Miss Bancroft and Zohra Lampert, who is wonderful as the mute daughter of Mother Courage, and to the direction of Robbins.

Work Progressing On N.Y. World's Fair

Every day, a reigning prince or head of state may stop by for a ground-breaking—and a chance to shake hands with a 74-year-old, tough-minded man named Robert Moses, builder and park creator extraordinaire who is the fair's president.

Turns Thumbs Down

It was Moses who, when the fair was in the planning stage, turned thumbs down on one serious proposal for a mile-round, diameter, two-story "doughnut," with a lake and little pleasure islands in the middle, to house all industry.

"A preposterous, constipating and stultifying scheme," Moses called it.

"The claim that General Motors, Ford, the gas and light and other great industries, and major exhibitors would be content to occupy a wedge of pie in the world's largest and roundest building is heard no more," Moses said recently.

It was Moses also who said "no" to a midway. Entertainment, yes, he asserted. Marching bands, an icecapade, square dancing, spectacular fountain displays, stage shows and night clubs.

But, as he told a Yale group: "We shall have no cheap midway with mechanical gadgets, freaks, shills and dubious side show."

Instead, on the park that was once a valley of ashes and tall garbage dumps, Moses' promise of a lively but orderly world's fair is taking tangible shape.

Giants of Fair
Among the avant-garde and generally unorthodox structures now going up are the two "giants" of the fair, the Ford and General Motors pavilions, both already "topped out" in steel.

On separate 7-acre plots, separated by a few other pavilions and a 75-foot long Brontosaurus visitors to the General Motors building will walk under a 10-story entrance canopy of soaring stars into a 240,000-square foot area where they'll take a futurama "ride into tomorrow" and view a display of products.

Nearby, across a giant six-lane highway (now being widened to eight), helmeted iron workers are reaching midway in their four-month job of fitting together a 12-story stainless steel globe called the "Unisphere" to symbolize the theme: It will stand on the same site where the Trylon and Perisphere rose in 1939.

Like the Eiffel Tower of the 1889 Paris exposition, the 1958 Atomium of Brussels and the 1962 Space Needle in Seattle, the Unisphere will remain standing as a permanent landmark.

By far, the biggest construction job can be seen in the orange steel grillwork of a new, $124 million arterial transportation system now going up.

Traffic Is Problem
Old expressways and parkways are being extended. A subway station is being reconstructed, the Long Island Rail Road is building a new depot and the $325 million Verrazano-Narrows Bridge—to be the largest suspension span in the world—will provide a fast route to the fair for visitors coming to New York through south and central New Jersey.

But what might happen one fine Sunday evening, when a baseball doubleheader breaks up at the new municipal stadium 100 yards outside the fair grounds and tens of thousands of fair visitors (estimated to run as high as half a million on special days) stream for the exits, remains to be seen.

Fair officials say the huge arterial system and the fair's non-rush hours (10 a.m. to 10 p.m.) will rule out congestion.

But New York City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes, who said he has a man working full time on the problem, admits he is worried. Traffic may become chaotic, he said. The system is new and untried, it is in an already congested area and he said, "It can get interesting."

"Let's not kid ourselves," Barnes said. "We're going to have problems."

The stadium, as a kind of "satellite" of the fair, like the new Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts in Manhattan, will be the scene of some connected events. Some American trials for the 1964 Olympics are expected to be held there.

The stadium will be the permanent home of New York's baseball "Mets" and the football "Jets."

Permanent, too, will be the Flushing Meadow Park Marina, where 800 boats will ply the waters during the fair's operating season.

Some other sure draws: The famed "Pieta" by Michelangelo, a priceless marble sculpture to be brought to the Vatican Pavilion from St. Peter's Basilica in Rome. Sixty-nine inches high and almost 500 years old, it is called the crowning achievement of Michelangelo's youth.

—Replicas of a New England fishing village and a Belgian town will be seen, and so will a Japanese garden and the "miracle kitchen" visited by former vice-president Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Moscow five years ago.

Plans for a moving sidewalk, 600 feet long, were rolled up. No sponsor. Plans of one company for a building to rest on a "curtain of air" were dropped. Too costly.

After It's Over

At the close of the fair, a new "time capsule" will be left for the ages. It will be placed 50 feet in the ground beside one from the '39 fair (containing an alarm clock, a doll, a baseball, a woman's hat and microfilmed information). Both capsules are for opening in the year 6939 A.D.

Flushing Meadows, with its fountains, landscaping and Uni-RCA also said it is hopeful of turning a profit from its computer business by the end of next year.

KIDDING—Along with word that Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, is expecting her third child in August comes word that two of her sisters-in-law also are expecting. The expectant ones are Mrs. Robert Kennedy (left), wife of the attorney general, and Mrs. Edward Kennedy (right), wife of the senator from Massachusetts.

In almost everything else he has built, be it a tunnel, a highway or the Niagara Falls hydroelectric project, Bob Moses has left a park.

"This one," said engineer Whipple, "will be one of the most spectacular in the country."

RCA Sales Increase

Radio Corp. of America reported first quarter profits were the highest for any three-month period in the firm's history and sales reached a peak for any first quarter. The company said first quarter sales of color and black-and-white television equipment were a record for the period.

RCA also said it is hopeful of turning a profit from its computer business by the end of next year.

ART TREASURE RE-DISCOVERED—Author-director Ranaid MacDougall and his wife, musical comedy star Nanette Fabray, show Pierre Puvis de Chavannes' "Femme Nue" at the 69th Regiment Armory in New York. The painting, one of those exhibited in the Armory show of 1913, awakened a startled public to modern art. The art masterpiece had been presumed lost until it was discovered in MacDougall's possession. It is being shown at the 50th Anniversary Exhibition of the original show.

Of the 11,800 fire deaths in the in homes and one-third of these U. S. during 1962, 6,400 occurred; victims (2,200) were children.

JFK To Substitute For Mrs. Kennedy

PALEM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)— President Kennedy will attend the annual congressional wives luncheon as a substitute for his wife, it was announced.

Assistant Press Secretary Andrew Hatcher said the Chief Executive will attend the luncheon May 2 in a new Washington hotel. The brunch, sponsored by wives of congressmen, is in honor of the First Lady, but Mrs. Kennedy, five months pregnant, has canceled all official activities.

Hatcher was asked if Kennedy will eat with the ladies or just pop in to say hello.

The press aide said he was sure Kennedy "will be a full substitute."

Prohibition Party Plans Convention

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)— The Prohibition party announced plans Wednesday to hold its national presidential convention in St. Louis a year early this summer.

The Rev. Joseph L. Autenreith, St. Louis clergyman and national treasurer of the party, said St. Louis was picked for the naming of 1964 presidential and vice presidential candidates because of its central location and the "good news coverage" given the party in the past.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO—The government issued a bulletin into the soybean future trade Thursday with its announcement that the maturity date for crop loans had been extended two months to July 31.

Within a few minutes after the opening of the Board of Trade, speculators had bid the price of some old crop months up about two cents a bushel and they finished at their peak of the day despite some moderate flurry of profit-taking. New crop months closed about a cent ahead.

Exporters report that Poland purchased 1,500,000 bushels of wheat and Yugoslavia 75,000 bushels from the northball fleet. Poland also took 75,000 bushels of hard winter wheat, Yugoslavia 93,000 bushels and Japan 500,000 bushels.

The increase in corn under government loan, the decrease in Chicago stocks and healthy export sales lent support to the corn market. Commercial houses were active buyers. It was reported that Great Britain took 400,000 bushels of corn, Holland 300,000 bushels and Norway 120,000 bushels.

Oats were steady to firm in mixed commission house trade. Rice prices were slightly higher on steady demand. Many were in the market for 2,000,000 bushels of that grain.

Outside markets were mixed.

Take a daily walk and gather beauty benefits along the way.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

An Excellent Exercise For Everyone

It's the oldest "exercise" known to avoid it! Perhaps you could walk part of the way to work. If the housewife cannot combine walking with errands, there are many other possibilities — taking the baby for an airing, for instance. (How about a walk with the older child, too? A good chance for those precious moments to talk about his thoughts and problems and hopes.) There know that many of our Powers may be nearby points of interest beauties list a brisk daily walk or beauty; or you may just have as a chief means of general exercise. It's ideal for all ages, neighborhood looks on foot.

This kind of walk is not a stroll. To do any good, it should be fairly brisk, and at least 15 minutes a day. Once a week, try to get in a really long walk; an hour or so. While you're walking, practice improvements in your posture and in the grace of your walk.

Do you need more specialized exercises to bring some of your measurements into proportion? A good way to find out is to send for my booklet, "Do You Measure Up?" Address the request to me, John Robert Powers, in care of your newspaper. Please enclose 10c and a stamped, return envelope.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a traveling man who leaves home on Monday and returns on Friday. This has been my routine for 12 years.

My wife knew this when I married her eight years ago and she said it was O.K. with her — that she would never beef about my being away. Her father worked on the railroad so she was accustomed to it.

She has kept her promise, but now I have other problems.

Last night I arrived home a few hours earlier than usual. The place was filled with cigar smoke. There was a cigar butt in the ash tray. My wife was washing her hair. When I asked about the smoke in the house and showed her the cigar butt she said, "I've always wanted to smoke a cigar — so tonight I tried one." What do you think?—LOSING BY A NOSE

DEAR NOSE: Any woman who can think THAT fast is going to be awfully hard to out-smart.

In the absence of other evidence accept her explanation — and keep your eyes open.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter received a party invitation in the mail yesterday. She said, "Isn't this cute?" and handed it to me. I was shocked to see a line — written across the bottom of the invitation which read — "Bring your own bottle."

Marie is a college freshman — but only 17. The party, she argued, is being given by one of the "best-rated girls in town." Her father is a doctor and her mother is one of the society leaders. They live in a mansion with a three-car garage.

I told her I didn't care about their garage and that she wasn't going to the party. There was no arguing. Marie uttered "O.K."

My husband says maybe I am wrong. He claims perhaps we should allow our daughter to be exposed to all sides of life, and make her own choices. What is me, John Robert Powers, in care of your newspaper. Please enclose 10c and a stamped, return envelope.

DEAR PURCHASE: I'm with you, mother. It's bad enough when 17-year-olds go to parties that somehow "turn out" to be drunken brawls. But to knowingly allow your teenager to attend a party to which she has been instructed to "bring your own bottle" would be stupid.

Teenage drinking is assuming dangerous proportions and it's getting worse. Parents who allow kids to make such "choices" are merely covering up for the fact that they have lost control.

DEAR ANN: I am 19. He is 21. Jim is the nicest guy I ever met. I am trying desperately not to fall head over tea-kettle, but I am losing the battle.

The problem is this: Jim has another girl who keeps giving him the run-around. He has told me he's in love with this girl but he enjoys my company a great deal. I'd have to be pretty dumb not to realize that I am his second choice.

This girl treats Jim like dirt. She stands him up when she gets a chance to go with fellows she considers more important. Then he calls me — and I go running. I hope one day he will see what she is doing to him and that he will stick with me. What are my chances?—SPENCE

DEAR SPENCE: Your chances are about the same as a snowflake on the Sahara. Some men just love to be kicked around. The more abusive the treatment, the better they like it.

If this girl drops him on his head he will probably fall for another girl who treats him the same way. And you will continue to be second — or third.

Planning a wedding? Leave nothing to chance. ANN LANDERS' newest booklet, "The Bride's Guide," has all the answers (from announcing the engagement to "who pays for what"). To receive your copy, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35c in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Can you name the 6 reasons Martini devotees prefer the glorious Gordon's Martini?

1 To this day, the ancient pot still method is used in distilling Gordon's Gin. 2 Only gin from the heart of the run is bottled for Gordon's. 3 Gordon's uses only juniper berries and other choice botanicals aged to the peak of maturity. 4 Gordon's is extraordinarily dry. 5 Gordon's has a distinctively delicate flavour. 6 Gordon's maintains its exceptional quality because it still harks back to Alexander Gordon's original formula created in England in 1769. Reasons enough for enjoying a Glorious Gordon's Martini soon, wouldn't you say?

City To Change Parking Plan On Frederick Street

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan has announced that alternate parking will go into effect on a temporary basis on Frederick Street between Linden Street and Keiter's Store Monday April 29.

The commissioner released letters concerning his request from John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer for the Maryland State Roads Commission, and John W. Courter, division engineer of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Courter's letter was addressed to John B. Funk, Maryland SRC chairman, and it was indicated the bureau had no objection to shifting of parking. However, it was indicated if this interferes with free movement of traffic, parking will have to be returned to the east side of the street.

Courter, in his letter to Funk said a representative of his office observed the condition of Frederick Street (U. S. 220) and noted no excessive wear or difference in cleaning.

"This office offers no objection to alternate parking from the east to the west side of Frederick Street between Linden Street and Keiter's Store on a temporary basis.

"This change will be observed by a representative of this office and if found to be detrimental to the operation of traffic, the parking will have to be returned to the east side," Courter said.

Local Trucker Injured When Brakes Fail

A local truck driver narrowly escaped death Wednesday when the brakes failed on the rig he was driving and it overturned at the intersection of Coopers Rock and Fairchance roads, near Morgantown, W. Va.

The driver, Richard Lee Klavuhn, 38, of 540 Greene Street, was treated at Mileground Medical Center for abrasions, contusions and a laceration of the scalp.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Elig, who investigated, said Klavuhn was driving a tandem dump truck owned by the Klavuhn Coal Company here. The vehicle was loaded with 2x6 lumber and cabinets being transported to the Bowers Lumber Company in Fairmont.

Klavuhn told Sheriff Elig that he was descending the mountain on Fairchance Road when he noticed he had lost the air pressure in his brakes.

The truck turned over at the intersection, skidded about 75 feet and then righted itself. Wooden debris was scattered across the highway for some 50 feet, the investigating officer said. Two road signs were destroyed.

The truck was said to be a total loss. The "tin" can is actually about 99 per cent steel.

City To Open Washington's Headquarters

George Washington's Headquarters in Riverside Park, Greene Street, will be open Sunday, the anniversary of the date it was accepted by the city as an historic shrine.

Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder said the Sunday opening is unusual but the fact it is the exact date of its acceptance by the city plus the number of people who have expressed the desire for that day since they can not visit the site at any other time, prompted the action.

The Fort Cumberland tunnels will not be open that day, however, Mrs. Roeder said.

Washington's Headquarters will be offered to public viewing from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Members of Cresap Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be hostesses.

A boys glee club will sing "Under Paris Skies", with Doris Peyton as director; "Born To Be Free", with Mary Robb directing.

and "Black Is the Color Of My True Love's Hair", directed by Harold Hanson. A mixed chorus will present "The King And I", with Betty Rithrow directing; "Hallelujah", from "Mount of Olives", directed by Carole Reith, and "Out In The Fields", directed by Annetta Yates.

Until you need it, this money is earmarked for a very important job. And you can be sure it isn't building a 27-mile barrier of brick, barbed wire, and concrete.

Every dollar you save with Uncle Sam goes directly into keeping our country strong, with its affairs in good order, so that we can carry on the struggle for freedom—at remote outposts, at conference tables, in outer space.

New Rail Merger Will Affect WM

An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner did not acknowledge a recent agreement between the Western Maryland Railway and the Norfolk and Western as a necessary condition for approval of a merger of N&W with the Nickel Plate.

The agreement is aimed at protecting traffic received by the Western Maryland and the Port of Baltimore through interchanges with the N&W.

A recommendation of approval of the N&W and Nickel Plate merger has been made by an ICC examiner.

In Baltimore, W. Arthur Grotz, president of the Western Maryland, said he would not comment on the ICC recommendations until after the report had been studied.

One condition of the ICC examiner's approval was that the Pennsylvania Railroad sever its financial interest in the N&W and Nickel Plate. The examiner also said the two railroads should lease the Wabash Railroad — a third line in the merger proposal — and delay gaining stock control of it.

On Dec. 31, the commission approved the Chesapeake & Ohio's railway's application for permission to control the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

The merger was consummated Feb. 4 but the Justice Department has taken to the courts to battle it.

Still grinding through hearings before ICC examiners is a proposal to unite two mammoths of the industry — the Pennsylvania and the New York Central.

The Pennsylvania has already signaled a willingness to put in trusteeship stock it owns in other railroads when and if approval is given to a Pennsylvania-New York Central merger.

Under the proposal endorsed by the examiner, the combined Nickel Plate and N&W would lease the Wabash Railroad for 55 years. A proposal for stock control of the Wabash would be postponed.

N&W president Stuart T. Saunders and F.S. Hales, Nickel Plate president, said they were pleased with the examiner's recommendation. "I believe that our proposed system will become a reality and I hope the commission will process the case promptly," Hales said.

LaVale Lions Elect Heacox

Richard D. Heacox was elected president of the LaVale Lions Club in balloting Wednesday at the LaVale Fire Hall. He succeeds Harry E. White.

Others elected were Ivan A. Hall, first vice president; Joseph J. Dorsey, second vice president; Leo P. Ford, third vice president; Robert H. Loffert, secretary; George A. Emerson, treasurer; Lorimer J. Twigg, lion tamer; Walter Brock, tail twister.

Named as directors were Kenneth M. Alrutz and Cameron L. Otto, who will serve two-year terms. Holdover directors are Gerald L. Barb and J. Arthur Shank.

Picked as director of the LaVale Lions Foundation were Alrutz, Carl O. Belt, Leslie J. Clark, Dorsey, Emerson, Harold S. Everline, Heacox, Harry W. Larrick, Shank, White and William M. Wilson.

Officers of the foundation will be elected by the directors. The LaVale Civic Improvement Association, LaVale Century Club, LaVale Athletic Association and LaVale Fire Company each will select a director to serve on the foundation.

The new club officers will be installed at a meeting next month, and will assume their duties as of the first meeting in July. The terms of office run from July 1 to June 30, 1964.

The top vote-getter was Emerson, who was unopposed for treasurer.

West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, North Carolina and Maryland.

The Nickel Plate—once called the New York, Chicago & St. Louis—runs through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

The Wabash services New York, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and across the border into Ontario.

The merger plan calls for the N&W to issue up to 1,927,235 shares of common stock with a $25 par value in exchange for all outstanding Nickel Plate common stock.

Laotian Civil War Must Be Averted

The United States and Britain gambled in the Geneva Agreement that nationalism, freed of outside military threat, would keep Laos from going Communist. For nearly a year it has—to the surprise of many who considered the three-way coalition government a setup for a Communist takeover.

Now the Communists are again trying military pressure. Ironically, recent red-led Pathet Lao attacks have been directed against troops under Gen. Long Le, an ally in last year's fighting against the pro-Western royalist government. The general's loyalty to a non-aligned Laotian government quite obviously has become the Communists' stumbling block since he commands a strong following of neutralists.

Secretary of State Rusk is urging the Soviet Union to apply the Geneva Agreement's peace-keeping machinery. As co-chairman with Britain, Russia holds a direct responsibility. And if Moscow is unwilling to act against the Pathet Lao that should be made clear.

A first step would be an unfettered inspection of the Plaine des Jarres, where fighting has taken place, to determine whether the Communist supply line from Red China and North Viet Nam is operating. Refusal of the Pathet Lao to allow the International Control Commission authorized by the Geneva Pact to move freely into this area supports the suspicion that it is.

A civil war in Laos, strategic key to all Southeast Asia, contains serious possibilities of international conflict. That is why the 14 signatories of the Geneva Agreement must keep it from flaring.

These Days

Wanted - Consistency

Despite successive announcements of steel company selective price rises, the question of what kind of economy we are to have in the future is a lot clearer than it was a year ago. President Kennedy, taking a long breath, has indicated that he has no intention of trying to manage specific prices from the White House. He has, thank Heaven, affirmed his belief in a competitive economy.

But now that we are assured that the President believes in free prices, or in what used to be called the higgling of the market, the point of consistency rises. In support of his judgment that "selected price adjustments, up or down," are legitimate evidence that the competitive capitalist system is working as it should work, the President has reaffirmed his opposition to a "general across-the-board price increase in steel."

He seems to think that any such broad action by the big bellwether companies would be tacit indication of collusion aimed at undermining the spirit of our anti-trust legislation. And, though "Gary dinners," or get-togethers of steel corporation bigwigs bent on what might be called price fraternization, went out of fashion long ago, the President could be right in his suspicions. There is nothing inconsistent in his being for selective price increases and against "across the board" action.

The real test of Presidential consistency, both logical and moral, would come if and when the United Steelworkers union decides to reopen its contract, as it is entitled to do any time before May 1. The Steelworkers have become accustomed to making identical demands on all the companies, and a modern steel strike is always a universal thing. In short, the union presided over by David J. McDonald insists on "across the board" action. And, though it is fashionable to argue that wages are not a "commodity" and should therefore be exempted from anti-trust laws, the USW's habit of making across the board demands concerning the price of wages is a function of a monopolistic position. The money paid for labor is just as much a cost as is the money paid for coal or iron ore, and if the terms for its payment are exacted at across the board pistol point it can hardly be said that free competition prevails.

The White House, if its reputation for moral consistency is to be retained, should therefore be just as adamant in opposing a strike aimed at all the steel companies at once as it is in objecting to a universalized increase in carbon steel prices.

Whether the USW, in the present atmosphere, would deem it wise to put President Kennedy's reputation for consistency on the spot is an open question. To begin with, steel activity though it has risen to some 90 per cent of the rated capacity which the mills had in 1960, is by no means certain to remain at that level. Steel is no longer the dominating factor in the economy. It fights aluminum, plastics, glass, laminated wood, and a whole host of other materials, in a bewildering variety of markets. Aluminum and galvanized iron compete for the roofing market; fruit juice can be put up in aluminum cans; the curtain walls of big high-rise buildings can be made of either aluminum or stainless steel. So the probability that any big across the board increase in steel prices can be made to stick has disappeared.

Since a buyers' market still pertains in virtually all steel products (automotive body sheet may be an exception), the USW would be singularly ill-advised if it were to ask for a big across the board wage increase this May. To preserve its jobs, the steelworkers' union should be helping to promote the efficiency of the all-too-numerous high-cost marginal steel mills. This means it should try to write contracts with the smaller marginal companies in which efficiency sharing is linked to profit sharing. Any other method of trying to extract higher wages from the steel companies is bound to be self-defeating.

At the moment USW President McDonald, resting at Palm Springs in California, is fighting to restore his health after a serious virus infection. His other problem is to restore the health of his union—and this calls for desisting from making any big across the board demands whatsoever.

Figures Reveal Plight Of Steel Companies

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Much has been said about the difference between so-called "liberals" and "conservatives." Perhaps the simplest definition is that the latter have a profound respect for the economic facts of life, usually obtained through actual experience, while the former cling to the illusion that there is some magic way by which two and two can make five.

A most interesting example of the value of economic facts is to be found in a table of figures printed on the financial page of the New York "Herald Tribune" on Tuesday of this week. This gives the actual capital expenditures and depreciation allowances of the 15 largest steel companies and contrasts them with the dividends and the net income of the same companies in 1962.

If capitalism in the United States is to survive, and if Nikita Khrushchev's prophecy that our grandchildren will live under Communism is, to be proved wrong, then the four categories of figures in that table constitute the most essential piece of information that has been furnished in the perennial controversy about prices and wages.

This ought to be read and studied, particularly by those members of Congress who, at the behest of the White House, start investigations designed to persecute and intimidate businessmen who venture to raise prices, though no such scrutiny occurs when labor unions raise wages.

For what does the table show? First of all, there is the plight of the smaller company—like Lukens Steel—which has just raised its prices on selective items of steel. The net income of Lukens for 1962 was $3,273,000, but, out of this, $1,240,000 had to be paid in dividends — which, like "profits," seems to be an ugly word, though dividends are really a wage payment for the use of invested money. People will never furnish new capital to a company that doesn't pay back what it has borrowed or whose stock diminishes in value when earning capacity deteriorates and dividends grow less and less.

Every company has to figure out how much it can pay to the investors each year. If it borrows from banks, it must also give some assurance as to when repayment of loans will be made. Also, while companies may get a tax deduction for all expenses incurred in the operations of a business, capital expenditures are by no means covered to the same extent. As plant wears out, there are some deductions for depreciation, but this doesn't pay for the new cost of replacing a factory or old equipment.

Now, Lukens Steel in 1962 spent $6,611,000 for plant and equipment, but its net profit—after paying $1,240,000 in dividends—was about $2,033,000. This is the sum that has to be put into surplus or used to pay off capital borrowed. The depreciation allowance of $3,918,000 isn't enough to cover all outlays for plant and equipment.

Is the situation any different with a larger company? The case of Bethlehem Steel Corporation is even more discouraging. Thus, the net income in 1962, after paying operating expenses, was $88,677,000. This seems like a lot of money and usually figures like these get headlines "big profits." But the word "big" applies only to the size of the company and not to the economic facts of the case. For, while Bethlehem paid a low rate of dividends, the total amounted to $105,523,000, or more than was earned for the year.

So there was nothing to put into surplus. In fact, surplus of other years had to be used for dividends, and nothing was available out of 1962 earnings for new plant and equipment, for which a total of $192,831 was expended in 1962. The sum of $155,466,000 was available from depreciation allowance, but there was still a gap of $37,365,000 in capital expenditures that had to be borrowed or taken from funds accumulated in previous years.

Yet there is a faith on the part of the American investor that somehow the steel companies will make better earnings in future years. So, based on a belief that Communism is not just around the corner and that economic sense will prevail in Washington—especially in Congress—the steel companies have gone ahead with a capital-expenditure program of $1 billion every year for the last three years, and are making selective price increases now so as to earn a profit to cover in part the wage increases granted over the last five years.

Profits are essential. Increased wage costs can be destructive when they wipe out profits or reduce them to the point where investors hesitate to invest their money in an enterprise. Economic facts like these, however, are not taught in most of the schools of journalism or in the colleges where the favorite textbooks are those written by some of the economists who become presidential advisers. They hold that "deficit spending" by the government is sound finance and, by inference, that private companies can operate on the same theory.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

FACE OF CONGRESS — The slow legislative pace on Capitol Hill is becoming of deep concern to the Kennedy administration, although some White House insiders admit privately that at least part of the apathy is their own fault.

It's beginning to appear that the administration's new strategy of asking for just a few major pieces of legislation instead of "the works," as in previous years, may be backfiring.

There's an air of complacency reflected in Congress, except for two major subjects — Cuba and the high unemployment rate. These two issues continue to cost Kennedy points in the popularity polls, and, of course, tend to diminish the popularity of the Democrats in Congress.

The President is not greatly concerned, nor are the Democratic leaders on the Hill. They figure that this is the season of discontent and inaction, and are willing to suffer the current downward swing provided they have prospects of getting back on the up-beat when it counts — next year.

Under these conditions, the White House is not pressing very hard for the few things it has asked Congress to do, and lacking such pressure, Congress is not taking itself to seriously on its own.

It's beginning to look as though Washington has adopted the slogan of the old Brooklyn Dodgers — "Wait 'Til Next Year."

Changes In Physical Endurance Of Children

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

The physical performance of boys and girls is somewhat the same before puberty. Girls often outrun boys and swim better; and the tomboy can handle herself in any fight. But after adolescence begins, there is a marked difference between the sexes in abilities along this line, as is shown by tests, for muscle strength, speed and endurance.

According to a group of pediatricians at Georgetown University School of Medicine, most girls reach their peak of endurance for exercise at 13 years of age and decline thereafter. These physicians mention a study based on the 600 yard run, showing that a girl of 6 usually performs better than one of 18 years. The age of 13 corresponds with the menarche, which may play a role. This contention is confirmed by similar observations from the use of other tests for physical endurance.

The situation is different with boys. Their endurance grows steadily from age 5 through 20. Physical capacity improves at the age of puberty.

As the male adolescent grows, his capacity for physical performance increases. We might assume that this stems from the fact that he is gaining weight, growing taller, or getting stronger. These factors help but some credit must be given to the nervous system, which matures with age and this enhances muscle coordination.

Gain in weight during adolescence contributes more to the boy's muscle power than do the added inches in height. This is of practical value for physical education directors at the junior high level. Their classes should be divided by height and weight, depending upon the performance demanded. Dr. Felix P. Heald and his Georgetown colleagues suggest that weight be used when it comes to contests requiring muscle power, whereas height is a good judge of sports requiring jumping.

The Georgetown physicians also mention the results of a large study in Ceylonese subjects aged 10 through 50. The person with a normal or stocky build has, on the average, "... the greatest speed, the greatest strength, and the ability to sustain prolonged muscular effort." But those with a slim body build were more capable of performing strenuous exercise than were the stocky.

OBSTRUCTED VESSELS

H. P. writes: What is done for dermatomyositis?

REPLY — This is a rare condition in which there is obstruction of the small blood vessels of the skin, muscles, nerves, and connective tissue. The outcome is fever, aching, a rash, and symptoms resembling rheumatic fever. So far, the disorder has eluded all remedies.

MOTIVATED REDUCING

Mrs. B. F. writes: Is there any magic pill that will make me allergic to delicious desserts and give me strength to push myself away from the table while drooling for more food?

REPLY

Yes—a motivation pill that will make you determined to lose weight.

SLACK MUSCLES

Mrs. W. writes: Do you have the faintest bit of information on Oppenheim's disease?

REPLY

In this condition, muscular development is delayed and the child is weak and thin.

HEART ATTACKS

E. P. writes: Is coronary thrombosis due to overwork and tension?

REPLY

More than half the victims of coronary thrombosis have their heart attack while sleeping. The basic cause of this disease is hardening of the coronary arteries. Arteriosclerosis is traced to various factors ranging from too much cholesterol to overweight. Tension may play a role, but not overwork.

WATER ON THE BRAIN

W. W. L. writes: What is water on the brain of little babies just born?

REPLY

Hydrocephalus is an abnormal accumulation of fluid within the skull, resulting from interference with the flow of the cerebrospinal fluid through this area. In most instances, the flow is obstructed because of a congenital malformation or an infectious process.

TOMORROW: An English view of overpopulation.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Congress Should Check Up On The Legal Practices Of Its Members

By Drew Pearson

big banks. Although a Democrat, Multer has consistently deserted his fellow Democrats to vote with the Republicans against an investigation of chain banking and bank holding companies.

President Kennedy had asked for such an investigation, and all the 17 Democrats on the Banking and Currency Committee except Multer voted for it. The Congressman from Brooklyn lined up with the Republicans, against. When he lost, Abe hit the ceiling.

"I have fought your battles ever since I have been a member of this committee," he bellowed at fellow Democrats. "Now you have deserted me, turned against me. Well, it's all over, as far as I am concerned, I'm through fighting your battles."

Maryland Loan Company

As far as can be ascertained, Multer's battles were for his own business friends in New York. This column has queried him as to whether his law firm has received fees from those interested in legislation. He staunchly maintains that he keeps his law practice separate from his legislative work.

Last summer, Multer was especially vigorous in urging the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to grant a charter to the Park Central Savings and Loan Company of Baltimore which proposed transferring to Rockville, Md. Such a charter means that the federal government insures the bank, and it's estimated that this insurance is worth around a million dollars.

Accordingly, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board must be extremely careful. It found, in examining the Park Central application, that all the voting stock was owned in Forest Hills, N. Y., by Miles Breger and Maurice Greiff, both born in Austria, both having spent some years as New York public accountants. Other directors, though not holding voting stock, included Tom Widerman, president of the Maryland Motor Truck Association and its chief lobbyist in Annapolis; Jerome Lee Wade of Alexandria, Va., and Dr. Morton Beroza, an entomologist with the Agriculture Department.

The company had share accounts of $89,613.37 and had not made a single loan in the four years between 1958 and 1962.

Home loan bank practice requires that 75 per cent of the stock of a savings bank must be held locally and no more than 15 per cent of the stock held by one person or family. So with most of the voting stock held in Forest Hills, N. Y., and in the hands of two men, the board was reluctant to grant a charter.

Adam Clayton Powell Steps In

Whereupon Adam Clayton Powell, the Congressman from Harlem, became interested in the charter application, and last summer his office began calling the Home Loan Bank Board every week demanding action.

When Powell couldn't move the board, Abe Multer got into the picture. His office phoned almost every day, and he began twisting the arm of Chairman Joe McMurray.

On one occasion he came into McMurray's office, pounded on the table and demanded action. "I'm doing this for a friend," he roared.

McMurray has served for many years on the committees of Capitol Hill, knows that it pays to get along with powerful Congressmen. But he stood his ground. He made it clear that he was not going to be pushed into insuring the first stock savings company in Maryland just because a potent Congressman from Brooklyn demanded it. He referred the entire matter to his board.

Finally in November, the two other board members, John de Laittre and Joseph J. Williams Jr., broke the final and official news to the Congressman from Brooklyn. They told him they could not grant a federal charter to Park Central.

Multer was most unhappy. Mr. Breger, reached by this column in Forest Hills, was more philosophical. He said:

"This is a nice clean company, not a fancy deal. We accept favors from anyone. I have known Multer for many years, and he happens to be chairman of the banking committee. I contributed to his congregation, but not to him. We just got attached to the wrong star."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

There is increasing pressure for legal gambling. The problem is now in the open. It is under debate in many state legislatures and in The Congress of the United States. In every case, the pending bill will be defeated. There will be no more legal gambling than we now have.

The opposition, ironically, comes from the uneasy partnership of church ministers, gangsters, and owners of race tracks. Each has a separate reason for not wanting people to be able to play a slot machine or make a candy store bet on a horse. The clerics are afraid that off-track gambling will lower moral standards and convert children to betting their milk money.

This, I feel, is hypocritical. I've been in Europe six times and, in the countries where gambling is open and taxable, children do not bet and, among adults, a small percentage make regular wagers. Anything which tends to hurt the morals of man is covered in the Ten Commandments, and, when the originals were given to Moses, they covered every wrong which man might commit. They still do. Betting isn't among them.

As Jesus was dying on the cross, the Roman guards cast dice for his garments. I find nothing among his last words opposing this meanest of acts, and nothing in the commandments against it. We learned, 40 years ago, that we could not stop alcoholism by writing laws against drinking, and you cannot stop compulsive gambling by forbidding it.

We forbid the medical dispensing of narcotics and we have 60,000 known addicts. England allows anyone who registers as a drug addict to get his prescription filled for less than 50 cents at any pharmacy. So what happened? They have less than 1 per cent of the addicts we have, and no drug pushers or smuggling of drugs.

I cured my daughter Gayle of gambling when she was 12. We were in Lower California and I found that children are admitted to Tijuana race track. It was easy. I took her to the track, and pointed to the big odds paid for picking certain horses. I gave her $2. "You can keep it," I said, "or bet it." Gayle is thrifty. She'll put up with a headache until she can find a bargain in aspirin.

So she picked a horse, and bet her $2. She watched the horses run around the track and, when they crossed the finish line, she said happily: "How much do I get for my ticket?" I shook my head. "Nothing," I said. "Your horse came in fifth." Her chin fell all the way to her Mary Jane.

"This is pretty crooked," she said. "They took my money and now I get nothing." That, I said, is the general idea. I offered her $2 more for the next race. She not only refused the money, but she was so angry that she sat in sullen silence all afternoon. She has never bet since. What if she had won? I'd have urged her to bet the whole pile on the next race and get rich. I was determined that, no matter what happened, she was going to leave that track broke, and wise.

Life insurance is legal. It's nothing more than pari-mutuel on a big scale. When you pay a small premium, you're betting you'll die and the company will have to pay a large amount. The company is betting you'll live. When you fly, you pay $5 for $150,000 in insurance. The company is betting you 30,000-to-1 that you will arrive safely at your destination.

The gangsters are opposed to legal betting because they live off illegality. In the big cities, they control the small bookies who pick up bets from housewives, teen-age boys, small-time compulsive gamblers, and even cops. The game is so rich that the gangsters can afford to pay off everyone from policemen to mayors and still stay in business.

This money should go to the several state governments and should reduce taxes for the rest of us. The holy attitude of the assemblymen and state senators is, in large measure, akin to the congressmen of 1918-1919 who voted for the Volstead Act and drank bourbon in the locker room.

The track owners are opposed to legal gambling because they want the gamblers to pay admission fees to watch their money go down the drain legally, with some of it going to the rich race track owners.

No one, in the long run, wins at gambling. The odds are always shaded toward the house, even though a few innocents now and then hit the jackpot. Mathematically, the more frequently you gamble, the more chance you stand of losing. And yet, if a small percentage of our people have a fever for it, and a larger percentage want to place a bet now and then, I'd prefer to see some of it go to the government rather than to the gangsters.

I knew two men who used to stand at Fifth Avenue and 51st Street in New York and bet each other on the last number of passing license tags, odd or even. The loser once bet his friend $10 that within the next 60 seconds, a Hudson car would pass by. He got odds of 20-to-1. Within the minute, an old Hudson went by.

The gambler took his $200, paid the driver of the Hudson $50 for parking until he got the proper signal to drive by, and pocketed $150. You just can't legislate weaknesses.

Shaft Firemen To Seek Funds For 15 Days

SHAFT — The Shaft Volunteer Fire Company will launch a 15-day fund raising campaign Saturday under the direction of Raymond P. Kamauf, chairman. Assisting him is Francis Philpot.

A spokesman said firemen will distribute coin cards to all homes in Shaft, Midlothian, Carlos, Wrights Crossing, National, Woodland and Klondyke. Proceeds will be used for the new fire station.

Committeemen hope to raise at least $1,000 to help defray expenses of the $20,000 fire house.

Kamauf issued the following statement: "The coin cards used for the fund drive make it easy to contribute. They are actually savings cards with convenient slots for inserting quarters at regular stipulated times. Members of the campaign committee hope to cover every home in the community served by the fire company. If any interested parties are missed, however, it will be warmly appreciated if they notify someone at company headquarters."

"The fund drive is for a worthwhile cause. If the goal is reached it will mean better fire protection for everyone in the area. By inserting a quarter in the card each week for the specified number of weeks the desired sum can be raised without inflicting hardship on anybody."

The next meeting of the company will be held May 6 at 7:30 p. m.

Zantzingers Lawyers Ask For Statements

BALTIMORE (AP) — Prosecutors in the case against William D. Zantzingers, Southern Maryland socialite accused of causing the death of a Baltimore barmaid, argued Thursday that defense attorneys were not entitled to statements made by state witnesses.
In pre-trial action, Zantzingers attorneys have demanded access to all written or oral statements made by the prosecution's witnesses so the defense may prepare its case.
Zantzingers is accused of caning Mrs. Hattie Carroll, a hotel barmaid, at a society ball in Baltimore in February. Mrs. Carroll died in a hospital seven hours after the incident. It was ordered Wednesday that the trial of the Charles County tobacco farmer be moved to Hagerstown, but no date has been set.
State's Attorney William J. O'Donnell and his deputy, Charles E. Moylan Jr., told Judge Charles D. Harris in Baltimore Criminal Court Thursday that all medical data on Mrs. Carroll's autopsy have been supplied to Zantzingers' counsel, Frederick J. Green Jr. and Claude A. Hanley. The prosecutors said Zantzingers had given no oral or written statements to police in the case.
A hearing on the requests of Zantzingers' attorneys is to be scheduled Friday or early next week before Judge Harris.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Mrs. Marian Kluth, spokesman for a group of Anne Arundel County residents, has renewed a request to the State Board of Education for a hearing on a money controversy.
Parents of students at Glen Burnie High School asked the board earlier for a hearing but were refused. The controversy involves handling of $40,000 raised by the high school students.
Jerome Frampton Jr., president of the state board, replied to the first request that the parents had not "shown any decision of the Anne Arundel County superintendent from which an appeal can be taken to this board."
In her second request, Mrs. Kluth said the state board is authorized by law "to consult with and advise interested citizens" without the need for specifying legal charges.

Finan To Continue Study On Ownership Of Stock

BALTIMORE (AP) — Owners with Carl F. Vohden, administrator of stock in a finance company by the wife of state's deputy devote more study to the case administrator of such business in next week.
Vohden said he and the attorney general also had talked about reports that stock in the former Coastal Finance Corp. was in the names of both Dallams. The corporation was liquidated in bankruptcy.
Vohden said Dallam has given him a statement declaring he had no part in stock owned by his wife in Bay Credit Corporation.
A state law prohibits the loan law administrators from owning stock or being an officer or director of a finance company.
"It is the spirit, rather than the letter of the law that is involved," Finan said.

PAW PAW — The annual spring band concert of Paw Paw School will be held today at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium under the direction of Forrest Patterson.

Braves Break Ninth Inning Tie On Wild Throw

Aaron Scores On Dalrymple's Second Error

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A wild throw by catcher Clay Dalrymple, the Philadelphia Phillies' fifth error of the game, gave the first place Milwaukee Braves a ninth inning run and a 6-5 victory Thursday for their seventh straight triumph.

Henry Aaron led off the decisive ninth with a double off Ray Culp. Jack Baldschun came in and walked Eddie Mathews purposely. Norm Larker bunted down the third base line and when Dalrymple threw past third in an attempt to force Aaron, Aaron went home with the winning run. Larker received credit for a single.

Dalrymple's error was his second of the game. Ruben Amaro, Don Hoak and starting pitcher Art Mahaffey also committed errors and Amaro's gave the Braves two of their runs.

Beall Trackmen Beat James Wood

Coach Jerry Calhoun's Beall High trackmen scored an easy victory over James Wood High of Winchester yesterday, and did some record-setting in the process.

Beall racked up 4 points to James Wood's 34 in the dual meet staged at the Beall track in Frostburg.

Bruce Shirey was the Mountaineers' individual standout of the afternoon. He placed first in the low hurdles and high hurdles, and broke his own school and Beall Stadium record in the pole vault with an 11 foot-7 inch effort. His old mark of 10-10 was set last year.

Don McKenzie hung up a new school and stadium record in the mile run with a clocking of 4:34.2. Keedy set the school record (4:49) in 1954, and Allegany's Jeff Norris had the best previous stadium time, 4:43.8, set last year.

James Wood's mile relay team also got in on the record-shattering. The foursome's of Orndorff, McIntyre, Crabill and Milburn covered the distance in 3:41.9, to better Allegany's stadium record of 3:42, set last season.

Dawkins Says College Football Has Aspects Of Barroom Brawl

But Feels Every Boy Should Try Hand At Athletics

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — Even though 1st Lt. Pete Dawkins thinks college football is "more like a barroom brawl," he says there is no substitute for athletic competition.

The 1958 Army All-American halfback and Rhodes Scholar isn't knocking those who concentrate on studies but he believes certain aspects of being a good competitor are learned only from athletics.

"In modern society—American society in particular—we incorporate competition into our way of life," says Dawkins. "It's only natural, then, that one's training should start on the athletic field."

"A young, healthy boy who doesn't try his hand at one sport or another is missing a great deal."

Dawkins, who played football and hockey at West Point and later excelled in rugby while at Oxford, is now 24 and commands Company E of the rugged 503rd Battle Group, a unit of Fort Bragg's famed 82nd Airborne Division.

Dawkins says that college football is not a pleasant game.

"It's more like a barroom brawl," he recalls with a grin. "Some of those Saturday afternoons were mighty long."

He regards football as "the supreme challenge" and adds that he derived a great deal of satisfaction from playing the game. However, he asserts, "It's plain nonsense if anybody tells you he enjoys playing college football."

The physical beating is too much for pleasure.

He hesitates to compare football and hockey. "Football is a scientific game and you have to work awfully hard at it. There's very little practice for rugby. You just play the game and free lance as you go along," he notes.

After winning both the Maxwell and Heisman trophies in 1958, Dawkins was selected for a Rhodes scholarship. He calls his three-year stay in England "a unique experience; very much different from our colleges and our way of life. In addition to the advanced studies, one has time to think and get to know one's self better. A very stimulating experience."

He calls his company commander duties here a fulltime job, but the 6-foot-1, 200-pounder says he'll

Balk Calls Bring Beefs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Manager Harry Craft of the Houston Colts said Thursday that umpire Augie Donatelli's crew is "making a joke out of baseball" with frequent balk calls.

And pitcher Jack Sanford of the San Francisco Giants, who was charged with two of them Thursday, fumed, "I'll hang onto the cotton-picking ball for 10 minutes before I make a pitcher if they start to get on me."

Five balks were called Thursday as the Giants were defeating the Colts 6-3. The infractions resulted in Willie Mays of the Giants scoring twice from third base.

All told, Donatelli's crew has called 20 balks this season — 11 in the three game series between the Giants and Colts.

The controversial calls have been made on grounds that the pitchers have not come to a one high after taking their stretch with men on base.

Probers Find No Evidence Butts, Bryant Fixed Game

By DONALD F. MARTIN

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — An Alabama legislative committee said it failed to uncover any evidence that the 1962 Alabama-Georgia football game was rigged.

The terse preliminary committee report said "we have found no evidence worthy of belief to indicate that coach Paul Bryant (of Alabama) received any information from Wallace Butts that had any effect on the game."

The committee investigation was one of several that have resulted from a story in the March 23 Saturday Evening Post. The Post story alleged that Bryant and Butts, former Georgia athletic director, conspired to rig the game in a telephone conversation. Alabama won 35-0.

Butts and Bryant have denied the report. Butts filed a $10 million libel action against the magazine and Bryant has a $5 million libel action pending against the Post.

The committee's report said

"To this point we have been unable to find any creditable evidence of illegal, corrupt, unethical or unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of coach Paul Bryant; nor have we found any such evidence to indicate the 1962 football game between the University of Alabama and the University of Georgia was rigged or fixed in any way. We have found no evidence worthy of belief to indicate that coach Paul Bryant received any information from coach Wallace Butts that had any effect on the game.

"Because of the fact that it appears to the committee that Georgia politics may have been a major factor in this situation and because there may be further evidence available to the committee, we have decided not to make a final report at this time."

The Post story claimed Butts telephoned Bryant prior to the football game and divulged play patterns and other significant information about the Georgia team.

LaSalle, Fort Hill And Valley Win Allegany County League Openers

Explorers Upset Beall; Sentinels Trample Bruce

Black Knights Nip Mt. Savage, 6-5; Campers Are Idle

The Allegany County High School Baseball League opened its 25th season with a bang yesterday, as LaSalle's Explorers scored a 5-4 upset triumph over Beall High's Sentinels defending champions at Stitzer Field.

In the other two contests played yesterday on the opening day of the 1963 campaign, Fort Hill routed Bruce, 17-1, on the Sentinels' diamond, and Valley nipped Mt. Savage, 6-5, at Lonaconing.

The Explorers, who only three days ago were upset themselves by upstart St. Peter's of Westernport, 6-3, settled down after one rocky inning yesterday to stun coach "Moose" Arnone's Mountaineers.

Beall scored all of its runs in the second inning, collecting five of their nine hits in the big frame. The Mountaineers also benefitted from a pair of walks during the inning.

Talley Goes Route
Southpaw Terry Talley, who went the route for coach Bert Lawler's tossers, got tough from the third inning on and seemed to get stronger as the game progressed. He was helped in the second and third by a pair of sparkling catches in centerfield by Joe Nolan.

LaSalle opened the scoring in the first when Bill Deffenbaugh walked, stole second and rode home on Nolan's single. The Explorers evened the count in the third. Bob Neubeiser walked with the bases loaded, and an error on a ground ball permitted two more runners to cross the plate.

The tie-breaking tally was scored in the sixth on a close play at the plate, with Bill Luck just beating the tag on Marty O'Toole's single to right field.

Hurl One-Hitter
Righthanders Billy Rawnsley and Wayne Jewell combined to toss a one-hitter for Fort Hill. Rawnsley worked the first four innings and got the win, and Jewell finished up with three innings of hitless ball.

The Sentinels cut loose for 10 runs in the second inning, which was highlighted by a prodigious three-run home run to right field by first baseman Lonnie Lewis.

Pat Ryan's solid single in the second inning was the only hit obtained by the Bulldogs, who scored their run in the seventh inning without benefit of a base knock. Jim Guthrie scored when the Fort Hill catcher dropped the ball on an attempted double steal.

Valley's Black Knights sent 11 men to the plate in the fourth inning of their battle with the Indians, and scored all six of their runs. Dennis Shockey drove in a pair of the tallies.

The Indians picked up two runs in the fifth and three in the seventh. Three walks and a three-base error accounted for the final three runs.

Starting pitcher Kenny McCormick, who was relieved by Denny Moffatt, got the win for Valley. Howell was charged with the loss.

Notre Dame Has 84 Grid Candidates

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Eighty-four candidates took to the gridiron Thursday as football practice began under new University of Notre Dame coach Hugh Devore.

The initial session was devoted to the traditional picture taking in which 20 letter men performed for news photographers.

Four monogram men were missing. End Clay Stephens and tackle Marty Olosky were recovering from knee surgery. Halfback Don Hogan was recovering from a dislocated hip and halfback Tom MacDonald was out for baseball.

Devore said he plans to move guard Jim Carroll to center as the first of several changes.

CHICAGO (AP)—Ray Herbert, sidelined nine days with a stiff arm, made a vigorous pitching return Thursday with a three-hit job that brought the Chicago White Sox a 3-0 triumph over the Kansas City A's.

The A's four-game winning streak ended as the 33-year-old right-hander, a 20-game winner for the Sox last year, beat Ed Rakow in a mound duel.

Rakow, making his first start after blanking Minnesota on a two-hitter, yielded four hits, including Dave Nicholson's first homer, until being pulled for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Nicholson's blast against the wind into the left field lower stands, sealed a two-run seventh inning. Floyd Robinson tallied the other run on a wild pitch after doubling and taking third on a fielder's choice.

Pirates Edge St. Louis, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Virdon drove in the winning run with a ninth inning single Thursday night and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates and newly acquired Don Schwall a 3-2 victory over St. Louis.

Don Clendenon started things for the Pirates in the ninth with a double off reliever Diomedes Olivo, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Virdon's hit off Ed Bauta.

Schwall, former Boston Red Sox pitcher making his first National League start, retired after the eighth inning because of pains in his stomach and Elroy Face preserved the victory.

Tommy Aaron Leads Houston Golf Classic With Six-Under-Par 64

Nicklaus Trails By One Stroke; 13 Smash Par

College Champ Finishes Third In First Round

HOUSTON (UPI) — Tommy Aaron, of Gainesville, Ga., took advantage of a red hot putter Thursday and fired a 6-under-par 64 to lead a par-shattering first round of the $50,000 Houston Classic tournament.

An estimated crowd of 18,000 saw Masters' winner Jack Nicklaus trail Aaron by one stroke at 65. Amateur Kermit Zarley, national collegiate champion from the University of Houston, finished third with a 66.

Twelve other golfers had sub-par rounds because, or in spite of, gusty 20-mile-an-hour winds that raked Memorial's long fairways.

Four Tie At 67

Behind the top three with 67 were Bob Charles, Jack Fleck, Jerry Steelsmith and Charles Siford.

The 26-year-old Aaron had six birdies and no bogeys for a 31-34-66. His birdie putts included 12, 15 and 35-footers.

"I made more putts today than I made in a long time," Aaron said after his round. He said he played in the classic twice before, but finished so low he could not remember where he placed.

Last week Aaron wound up in a tie for 10th at the Greensboro Open, and won $1,100, his best finish since leaving the Army last November. In his three years on the tour, the University of Florida graduate made his highest finish in the 1962 Waco, Tex., Open, tying for third. Nicklaus, with a 30 on the first nine holes, tied the course record, then took a par 35 on the back nine for his 65.

Lost In Playoff

Jumbo Jack wound up tied for the Houston Classic last year with Dan Sikes and Bobby Nichols, and lost out in the playoff to Nichols.

Nicklaus said Thursday he thought the course was in excellent condition. He admitted the wind was helping a lot of his drives.

Jerry Steelsmith, of Glendale, Calif., tied a course record for the back nine with a 31 after taking an eagle two on the 10th hole by sinking a six-iron shot from 160 yards out.

Zarley needed a two-foot putt on the 18th hole to tie Nicklaus at second place, but missed it and took a 33-33-66.

Leafs' 3-1 Win Takes Stanley Cup

TORONTO (AP)—Eddie Shack's goal in the final 7 minutes sent the Toronto Maple Leafs to their second straight Stanley Cup hockey championship Thursday night in a hard-earned 3-1 victory over the Detroit Red Wings.

The Leafs, winning the best-of-seven series for the National Hockey League's prized trophy four games to one, broke a tie that had lasted for nearly 33 minutes of play on Shack's goal at 13 minutes, 28 seconds of the final period.

San Francisco Beats Colts, 6-3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays slashed three hits and scored twice on balks Thursday as the San Francisco Giants beat the Houston Colts 6-3.

Karras Offered Wrestling Career

DETROIT (UPI) — Wrestling promoter John Doyle Thursday offered Detroit Lions tackle Alex Karras, suspended indefinitely from the National Football League for betting activities, a contract for $40,000 a year.

Doyle said that Karras "could make more money in wrestling than he ever could in professional football."

"Karras is now 27 years old. If he stays in condition and has a little luck, he could wrestle for the next 18 years. No football player ever lasted that long," Doyle said.

Karras was unavailable for comment whether or not he would accept the contract.

He has a wrestling match scheduled for Saturday, April 27, with Dick the Bruiser promoted by Doyle and Jim Barnett.

Add 'em up... 100, 85, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8 and 6 horsepower. That's the power range of the new 1963 Mercury outboards.

Your Merc dealer has the widest selection of outboard horsepower available. He has the world's most powerful outboard, the Merc 100, 100 hp.

He has the world's lightest 9.8 hp fishing motor. The Merc 110 weighs only 55 pounds... as light as other 5 1/2 hp outboards.

See the Merc 850, 85 horsepower. It's a dockmate to the Merc 1000... the only outboard that surpasses it in power.

The new 1963 Mercurys include a 65 hp, 4-cylinder outboard... the Merc 650; and a new 35 hp, twin-cylinder outboard... the Merc 350. Like the Merc 1000 and 850, they have Power-Dome combustion chambers that squish the fuel-air mixture to control combustion for maximum efficiency.

Merc's new 50 hp Merc 500 is the most power that you can get for the money and there are three new fishing motors... Merc 200, 20 hp, Merc 110, 9.8 hp, and its little brother, the Merc 60, 6 hp.

These add up to a lot of horses... 190 more than you can find in the power range of any other outboard manufacturer. All the new Mercs have full gearshift and single-lever control.

Only Merc dealers have them. See yours today.

Stigman Hurls Three-Hitter, Twins Beat LA

Batley Homers In 3-0 Triumph

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minnesota Twins dropped Los Angeles 3-0 Thursday on Dick Stigman's first major league shut-out, Earl Batley's first homer of the season and some clutch hitting.
Stigman scattered three hits in squaring his record at 1-1 and giving the Twins their first series triumph of the season.
Stigman didn't permit a runner beyond second, and Jim Fregosi got there on his team's only extra base hit in the fifth inning. The Twins lefty struck out four including two in the ninth.

Batley's solo homer over the left field fence in the second got the Twins under way against starter and loser Ken McBride, who lasted seven innings.

Baseball Called More 'Tempting' Than Football
MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Circuit Judge Robert Cannon, legal counsel for the major league baseball players, said Thursday baseball offers "more temptations" than football for professional athletes to be influenced by gambling and hoodlum elements.
"Constant vigilance," said Cannon, "is the only way to combat these elements."
"Baseball is clean as far as I know," said Cannon, commenting on the betting scandals in the National Football League which resulted in the suspension of half-back Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers and linebacker Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions.

Tidewater Inn Owner A. J. Grymes Jr. Dies

EASTON, Md. (AP) — Arthur Johnson Grymes Jr., 67, owner of the Tidewater Inn, died at his home in Bailey's Neck near here Thursday.

He had been in ill health for several months.

A well-known yachtsman of the Chesapeake Bay area, Grymes raced the eight-meter sloop "Conwego" and later the New York 32 sloop "Folly" to numerous victories in bay regattas. He was a charter member of the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Racing Association.

Mr. Grymes was born in Orange, N. J., and attended public schools there, Montclair Academy and studied engineering at Stevens Institute. After serving as a sergeant in the 23rd Regular Army Engineers in World War I, he returned to work with the Brewer Drydock Company, a shipbuilding firm at Staten Island established by his father. He later became president and then chairman of the board of the company, now headed by his son, A. J. Grymes III.

In 1948, he returned to Easton and built the 125-room Tidewater Inn, which he managed until the time of his death.

He served as commodore of the Tred Avon Yacht Club, Oxford, Md., in 1937 and again in 1946 and 1947. He was a member of the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club, Talbot County Club, Elks and Christ Episcopal Church, all of Easton.

He was also a member of the Whitehall Club, New York, and of the society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers.

Grymes is survived by his widow, the former Muriel Saltonstall of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., whom he married in 1921 and three children, A. J. Grymes III, Essex Falls, N. J., Miss Muriel S. Grymes, New York City, and Mrs. John G. Mackie, Longmont, Colo. There are eight grandchildren. Funeral services will be held in Easton at 2 p.m. on Saturday April 20.

Pedestrians Injured In 2 Accidents

Man Hospitalized, Woman Treated

Two pedestrians were injured yesterday, one being hospitalized, after they were struck by vehicles in separate accidents.

Roy Lee Tichnell, 31, of 103 Water Street, Keyser, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital shortly after 3 p. m. after he was struck by a truck on U. S. Route 220 near the Maryland-West Virginia line.

Miss Joan Kidwell, 27, of 54 Ormond Street, Frostburg, was treated and released from Sacred Heart Hospital after being struck near the intersection of North Mechanic and North Centre streets.

Mr. Tichnell received abrasions of both legs and a possible shoulder injury when he was struck by a truck operated by Clyde M. Deist, Hill Street, Frostburg.

Trooper Ronald Lewis of the Maryland State Police said Mr. Tichnell was crossing the highway when he saw the truck approaching, and was trying to get back off the roadway when he was struck. The truck was traveling north when the accident occurred about 100 feet from the boundary line of the two states.

Miss Tichnell, a teacher at Northeast Elementary School, was struck as she was attempting to cross U. S. Route 40 near the Cumberland Lincoln - Mercury Garage.

Cpl. Oliver L. Cook of the City Police said Miss Kidwell's car ran out of gasoline near the intersection and she was crossing the highway to a service station when she was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Cora Wakefield, 135 National Highway, LaVale. No charges were placed against Mrs. Wakefield, Cpl. Cook said.

Miss Kidwell received injuries to her right wrist, left foot and right ankle. She was X-rayed and released after being taken to the hospital by Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein.

Local Man Is Promoted

Paul M. Boyland, of Cumberland, recently was promoted to chief, Engineering Data Systems Branch, Logistics Services, Defense Supply Agency in Alexandria, Va.

Prior to joining DSA, Mr. Boyland was employed by the Air Force Supply Support Center, Washington, D. C.

The DSA was established October 1, 1961, to purchase items of supply by all the Armed Forces and to perform common services for the Department of Defense. It presently has 12 centers throughout the country.

Mr. Boyland and his wife, Edith, also of Cumberland, reside at 9620 Dilston Road, Silver Spring, with their four children.

Law Would Cut Liquor Prices

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two wholesale liquor distributors in Maryland said Thursday the price of many liquor brands would drop if Gov. Tawes signs a bill to fix minimum retail liquor and wine prices.

I. Michael Strouse, president of Churchill, Ltd., said the price of many brands his firm distributes in Maryland probably would be reduced 20 to 30 cents per bottle if the bill goes into effect.

F. Jordan McCarthy, president of McCarthy-Hicks, said he felt there would be a price reduction in many brands which "are now overpriced."

At the same time, President Philip Harris of the Metropolitan Baltimore Licensed Beverage Association predicted the bill would mean an increase of at least $25,000 in state revenue.

Selections to be played by the band include "Sol y Sombra" by Gates, "A Festival Prelude" by Reed, "Cornet Carillon" by Binge, "West Side Story" by Bernstein and "Jubilee" by Kenny.

Mr. von Deck received his bachelor of music degree in music education in 1956 from Boston University. He studied string methods with George Barnoff and conducting with Francis Findlay.

$3,366,651 Yield From County Taxes Listed

10-Month Total Is Reported

A total of $3,366,651.01 in Allegany County real estate and personal property tax collections in 10 months since last June 1 was reached at the office of Allegany County Tax Collector Francis G. Philpot with the receipt of $24,035.60 during March.

These March collections were received while William B. Orndorff was rounding out his four-year term as county tax collector. His term ended April 7 when Mr. Philpot moved into the position.

March was only the second month in the 10-month span when collections for 1962 taxes exceeded the yield for 1961 taxes. The other high month was December. Last March the total was $23,246.96.

The 10-month total on 1962 taxes is now running $210,010.79 below the corresponding total a year ago of $3,576,661.80. The lower yield is understandable because the 1962 collections were on a $1.85 rate compared with $2.10 on each $100 of assessed valuation the previous year.

Collections in the 10-month period amount to 108.5 per cent of the $3,103,350 estimated for the entire fiscal year by the conservative county commissioners when they approved the levy list in April 1962.

March collections included $22,133.69 from real estate and personal property, $1,891.91 from corporations and $10 in trailer arrival taxes.

Collections continued to come in during March for the four special taxing areas of the county. They included $139.65 for LaVale, $131.44 for Cresaptown, $13.43 for Potomac Park and $17.96 for Mt. Savage.

Some $1,644.34 in 1961 county taxes also was received in March. State real estate and personal property taxes also are collected at the Court House. The 1962 state taxes collected included $1,792.28 from real estate and $86.93 from corporations. Some $103.54 in state taxes for 1961 also were received.

Monthly totals since last June with the 1961-62 figure listed first in each case:

June — $2,966,246.29 and $2,803,842.42; July — $139,699.05 and $118,915.56; August — $131,443.55 and $123,394.86; September — $83,488.30 and $69,660.81; October — $63,749.48 and $52,718.10; November — $51,380.79 and $45,345.86; December — $45,731.17 and $68,766.86; January — $40,739.13 and $36,885.01; February — $30,967.08 and $21,085.93; March — $23,246.96 and $24,035.60.

B&O Fireman Dies

BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP) — A Baltimore and Ohio Railroad fireman died Thursday while working aboard a freight train en route from Hagerstown to Brunswick.

George L. Deane, 52, of Frederick was pronounced dead of a heart attack by Dr. E. W. Ditto, Washington County medical examiner. Deane was reportedly working aboard the train's engine when he collapsed.

A decision by Frostburg Magistrate Edward P. Flanigan was affirmed yesterday when Melvin James Porter, 25, 17 Meshach Frost Village, Frostburg, failed to appear in Circuit Court. He had been fined $10 and costs March 26 on a reckless driving charge.

Prosecution of the cases was handled by Assistant State Attorney Donald W. Mason.

One Driver Convicted, Second Freed

One driver involved in a collision along State Route 51 at Oldtown was found guilty yesterday but the other one was acquitted when their appeals were heard in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Joan Herscuth, Oldtown, who had been fined $5 March 15 by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, was again found guilty yesterday by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris on a charge of failure to grant the right-of-way. Judge Harris again imposed the $5 fine but the court costs were greater. The girl was pulling out of a driveway onto Route 51 when the accident occurred January 6.

However, Judge Harris acquitted the other driver, Elden Maurice House, 18, RFD 1, Paw Paw, who had been charged with failure to keep to the right of the center of the highway. He had appealed when fined $5 March 15 by Magistrate Weatherholt.

The Herscuth girl was represented by Attorney Gorman E. Getty while House was represented by Attorney Hugh A. McMullen.

Clyde Dye of Westport was found guilty by Judge Harris of assaulting his sister, Mrs. Mary C. Woods, on March 7. He had appealed when Trial Magistrate Russell R. McRobie of Westport found him guilty March 9 and sentenced him to six months in the Maryland House of Correction.

Judge Harris gave Dye two years in the House of Correction but suspended the sentence provided Dye abstains from the use of intoxicating beverages, has good behavior and stays away from the home of his parents, where the assault occurred. Judge Harris reminded Dye of his right to obtain counsel but the defendant refused to employ counsel.

A decision by Frostburg Magistrate Edward P. Flanigan was affirmed yesterday when Melvin James Porter, 25, 17 Meshach Frost Village, Frostburg, failed to appear in Circuit Court. He had been fined $10 and costs March 26 on a reckless driving charge.

Prosecution of the cases was handled by Assistant State Attorney Donald W. Mason.

School, Church Groups Help In Cancer Crusade

Several church and school groups are participating in the annual Cancer Crusade in Allegany County this month.

Members of both Allegany and Fort Hill High School Future Nurses of America and Future Homemakers Clubs will appear on downtown streets, at LaVale Plaza and White Oaks shopping centers Saturday seeking contributions to the Cancer Crusade.

Members of the Fort Hill Tri-Hi-Y will also assist in the Saturday drive for contributions, and other members of the Future Homemakers Club will hold a bake sale in front of Grant's Store at LaVale Plaza from noon until 6 p. m.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of Eckhart Methodist Church and members of Fort Hill Tri-Hi-Y also will assist in the house-to-house canvass set for April 26, 27 and 28.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, president of the Allegany County Chapter, American Cancer Society, and Robert G. Garner, campaign chairman, said yesterday it is appropriate that these youngsters take part in the campaign for funds, because statistics show that cancer is the leading cause of death from disease among school children.

Last year some 4,700 children under 15 died of cancer. From 1934 to 1959, deaths from cancer in children increased from 5.2 for each 100,000 population to 8.1.

Other childhood diseases have been controlled, but some 4,800 children will die of cancer in 1963 if present rates are allowed to continue.

Leukemia, cancer of the blood-forming tissues, is the most critical cancer problem among children, according to the Cancer Society. In 1963, it will cause about 2,300 deaths among children one to 14.

But even for leukemia, Mrs. Roeder said, there is a promise of hope. Newly developed drugs make it possible to extend the lives of leukemia patients from months to years of useful life. There is growing evidence pointing to viruses as a possible cause of leukemia. If this is proved, then a vaccine may in time be developed.

Mr. Garner said the American Cancer Society is the leading voluntary health agency fighting leukemia and other childhood cancers. Funds received in the crusade go toward education, research and service aimed at solving the problem of cancer in children as well as in adults.

Of the other permits issued last week six were for additions and alterations to dwellings, one addition to a trailer, one replacement of a garage and one new garage.

Nine different election districts figured in the permits last week. Three were for District 13, two each for Districts 5, 6 and 19, and one each for Districts 3, 7, 16, 20 and 24.

The total estimated cost of the 14 projects is $47,725.

Mail Delivery Changes Listed For Rawlings

Residents Will Use Maryland Address

Cumberland Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon and Acting Postmaster James R. Broome, Keyser, announced yesterday that the Post Office Department has authorized changes in delivery service to the Rawlings area which will enable all persons residing in that general area to use a "Maryland" address. The changes will be effective April 27.

The changes are a result of a study conducted by the Post Office to seek ways to eliminate an annoying problem to residents of Maryland who have had to use a West Virginia mailing address.

At the present time RFD 3, Keyser serves all postal patrons residing on U.S. 220 (McMullen Highway) from McCoolle to Pinto Road. Patrons receiving delivery by this route must now use the address "RFD 3, Keyser."

The use of a West Virginia address has been the source of considerable difficulty to many of the persons residing in Allegany County. They had to give explanations to various agencies of both Maryland and West Virginia, as the use of a West Virginia address has caused confusion in income tax returns, land assessments, delivery service and many other transactions.

Under the plan to be placed in effect April 27, a portion of the route now served by the carrier on RFD 3, Keyser, will be served by RFD 5, Cumberland. These patrons will be advised that their new address is RFD 5, Cumberland.

The remainder of the patrons who will continue to be served by RFD 3, Keyser, are being informed that they can use the address RFD 3, Rawlings, Maryland, after April 27.

The carrier will not be stationed at the Rawlings Post Office. All mail addressed to RFD 3, Rawlings, will be separated at the Cumberland Post Office and dispatched to Keyser for delivery by the RFD 3 carrier from that office.

All patrons affected by the changes are being notified of the action by letter from the Cumberland and Keyser postmasters.

Woman Enters Guilty Pleas

Bessie Virginia Miller, 41, of Bowman's Addition, yesterday pleaded guilty to arson and bigamy when she was arraigned in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris remanded her to the County Jail pending an investigation and report by James Lewis, probation and parole officer. Mrs. Miller was represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges.

Mrs. Miller was charged in two criminal informations filed Wednesday by State's Attorney James S. Getty as a result of an investigation into a fire April 2 which did between $2,000 and $3,000 damage to the home of Henry Howe of Forest Avenue in Bowman's Addition.

The state's attorney said the investigation not only established that she set fire to the house. It also revealed that she was married last November 23 while still legally married to her previous husband.
